

ILUG 2018 Grant Application

Applications for a grant to attend either IUG in Orlando in April 2018 or the ILUG meeting during AALL in Baltimore in July 2018 will be accepted by the current Grants Committee of ILUG, Ashley Krenelka Chase, Kaylan Ellis, and Dawn Smith, on or before February 15, 2018. Email your completed application to Ashley at akrenelk@law.stetson.edu, Kaylan at k-ellis@onu.edu, and Dawn at dawn.smith@yale.edu.

The selected grant recipient must be employed at a library that is a member of ILUG, and the grant will provide assistance of between $300 and $500 to cover costs of attendance at the IUG or AALL meeting. The amount of ILUG funding available, combined with the financial support expected from the applicant's institution as described in the application, will uniquely determine the grant award.

The attendee will be considered a representative of ILUG at the meeting, will take notes of their learning experiences and provide a written report to post on the ILUG website, or make a brief presentation at a subsequent meeting (e.g. present something learned at IUG or AALL), or serve on an ILUG committee.

ILUG expects to fund two grants, though the Chair-appointed Grants Committee may select zero or one recipient based upon the qualifications of the applicants.

The committee will consider: potential to contribute to ILUG and colleagues in ILUG libraries; demonstrated contributions or engagement with ILUG and related professional organizations; financial need (i.e. employer not covering costs). Finally, the committee will attempt to award one grant to an early-career recipient and one who has longer experience.

Grant recipients are not eligible to apply again for three years.

The ILUG Grants Committee will notify recipient on or before March 1, 2018.
